For Associate Justice of the Supreme Court—
DAVID TAYLOR, of Fond du Lac.
For County Judge—
AMOS B. PRICHARD, of Janesville.

The Illinois legislature still continues to disgrace that state.

It has been a long time since an office went in search of a man.

The bill to create the office of state pension agent, has been defeated by the Senate.

Jeff Davis is very sick, but the telegraph is not troubled with bulletins regarding his condition.

Commercial centers feel hopeful regarding business, and money is more freely seeking investments.

Auna Dickinson is still peddling Joan of Arc, and is making money—the latter, success being something new for Auna of late years.

Five noted German artists are engaged in Runggold preparing a grand panorama of the battle of Chikamanga for a Philadelphia company. They will receive $35,000 for their work.

General Lawton, nominated as Minister to Russia, has had his name withdrawn, because of the disability incurred while in the rebel army, congress having once refused to remove it.

General Grant is still making an heroic fight for life, and his physicians are surprised at his vitality. There is little hope, however, that he can survive much longer. The disease is terrible in its grip, and Death will soon conquer in spite of the hero's iron will.

The first month's pay of General Grant as a retired general fell due on the 2d instant, and amounted to $1,125. The income of the family from the invested gift fund is $1,230 a month. They have lost the ownership of the fine house in which they live and an important part of their income goes to pay the heavy rental.

The State Journal says: "Joint resolutions were introduced in both houses of the legislature, last evening, the one providing for an adjourned session, on the second Wednesday of January next, and the other for a special session to be called by the governor, for the purpose of redistricting the state into senate and assembly districts on the basis of the census of inhabitants to be taken this year. Should either be adopted, the result will be a large increase of representation for the northern portion of the state."

The report that Mrs. Garfield was engaged to be married is pronounced a cruel canard, and a close friend of that lady gives the unaccustomed press this statement: "The report that has been extensively circulated, that Mrs. Garfield is to be married, undoubtedly originated from some malicious person who wished to annoy her, as it has been authoritatively ascertained that the rumor is utterly false, having no foundation whatever. Mrs. Garfield has only recently heard of it. She still wears mourning, and matrimony has no place in her thoughts."

The United States senate has adjourned, and quite a number of appointments failed of confirmation. But the president may, if he desires, appoint these gentlemen now that the senate has adjourned, and again send in their names to the senate next December. In the meantime they can assume and perform the duties of the office to which they may be nominated until the senate acts upon their nominations. It is understood that in the case of postmasters and internal revenue collectors, the republican senators decided not to confirm nominations in cases where the incumbents have not served two years, unless their should be cause for removal.

The late Captain Jenkins, of Oshkosh, made some very handsome bequests before he died. He gave $10,000 to charities, $8,500 to the Nasbuth theological seminary, $2,500 for the support of Protestant Episcopal missions in the diocese of Fond du Lac, $2,500 for the aid and support of a candidate for holy orders at Nasbuth, $1,000 to the St. Paul mission in that city, $5,000 for the support of Kamper mission school and $1,000 for the aged and infirm clergymen's fund of the diocese of Fond du Lac. He leaves $10,000 in cash to his wife and the use of his homestead, and the interest of $25,000 besides $22,000 a year. The balance of his property, $200,000, is to be divided among five married children, one son and four daughters.

The New York Tribune, which has been extremely bitter against President Cleveland, and which regarded him as an impostor, so far as reform is concerned, now gives him the complimentary notice for re-appointing Postmaster Pearson: "It will give great satisfaction to The Tribune, to command President Cleveland as really the honest reformer which his party, not a bit believing it, assured the country that he would be. At present this is to be said in his favor, that he has appointed one out of the many Republican officials whose unquestioned and superior fitness renders their retention in office the clear duty of a president who means to improve and not to degrade the public service. For so much, thanks!"

The report which is being circulated among certain classes that the new license law will not affect the city of Milwaukee. This is a false report, as the following from the Milwaukee Sentinel will show: "This places the Milwaukee license at $200, which is an increase of $125. It is not high enough to give the city the revenue it ought to have from the saloons; it is not high enough to do with it. The argument clean out all the disreputable and dangerous dens; it is not high enough to inspire the saloonkeeper with a proper degree of dread of violating the law and so forfeiting his license; but it will help mightily in all these directions. It will increase the revenues of the city from this source from about $100,000 to more than $200,000, which will be a relief greatly appreciated by tax-payers who are overburdened with expenses that ought to be borne in larger part by the saloons."

THE LICENSE LAW AND DRUG-GISTS.

The new license law provides that town boards, village trustees, and common councils of the respective towns, villages and cities in this state, upon the written application of any registered pharmacist shall grant to him a permit to sell strong, spirituous and ardent liquors in quantities less than one gallon, for medicinal, mechanical, or scientific purposes only. The sum to be paid for such permit shall be ten dollars; and such permit shall be granted and issued in the same manner and terminate at the same time as the license to saloon-keepers.

The law also provides that every pharmacist to whom a permit is issued, shall keep a book in which he shall enter the date of every sale made by him of any such liquors, the name of the person to whom sold, and the kind and quantity of, and purpose for which such liquors are sold; and the book shall be open to the inspection of the authorities granting such permit. It is made the duty of each pharmacist on the third Tuesday of April in each year to file with the clerk of the city, village or town in which his permit is granted, a verified copy of all the entries made by him in such book.

This law will be an important benefit to pharmacists in many towns and cities of the state in which their license to sell liquors for medicinal purposes has been unnecessarily high.

GENERAL GRANT'S PHYSICIANS.

A prominent Homeopathic journal in the east has begun a pretty bitter attack upon the physicians who are attending General Grant; or rather they are attacking the method of treatment. The old story that General Washington was virtually murdered by his medical attendants has been revived; and the same argument is used to show that "eminent" physicians are making tortuous work of trying to save the life of the great soldier.

There is a good deal of truth in the statement that illustrious patients are in danger of losing their lives when placed in the hands of some of those who have gained "eminence" in the medical profession; and the case of President Garfield is called as an illustration. There can be no reasonable doubt that the most "eminent" thing connected with the treatment of the wounded president was the incompetency of the physicians and surgeons who, day after day, blundered in their diagnosis and finally were conquered by the spot bullet, and poor Garfield went to the grave for rest.

Some extraordinary facts in this case were brought to broad sunlight by Gail Hamilton, and in all the chilling rebuke and withering sarcasm of the age, there had hardly been a more distinguished bit than that given by Miss Hamilton on the maltreatment President Garfield received from the hands of his "eminent" physicians. The chances are that if he had been an ordinary man, and a practical surgeon of good judgment had held of the case, the bullet would have been found and a life saved from shocking death.

Whether or not General Grant is another shining example of what is called "cold blooded expectancy," is not for any one, outside the medical fraternity, who has no understanding of the case, to pass judgment. It is by no means certain that the homeopathic remedy which has been "loudly called for" in his case, would have brought salvation; and it must be taken for granted that Drs. Douglas and Shady, although "eminent" in their profession, are competent to perform the delicate and responsible duty assigned to them.

CHEAP TELEGRAPHY.

The new telegraph rates have just gone into effect in the United Kingdom—England, Ireland and Scotland. I provide, that all messages of twelve words shall be sent to any part of the kingdom for twelve cents in our money. This is less than half the price for like messages in the United States.

It will be remembered that this telegraphic system in the United Kingdom is under the control of the British post office department, and is therefore called postal telegraphy. This system has been in use in England for some time, and has not been found remarkably convenient in a business point of view, but financially, it has been a signal success. The late change may reduce the profits of the system for a short time, but the final result will no doubt justify the change of inducing the greater use of the telegraph in every branch of business, as well as in the common concerns of life.

Germany is using the cheap system of telegraphy and is found to be profitable. Other European countries have the benefit of a cheap telegraphic system, and the highest rate for messages on the continent is little more than half the rate charged in the United States.

Many attempts have been made in this country to secure postal telegraphy. While the late Governor Washburn of this state, was in congress he endeavored to press to passage a bill providing for a system of postal telegraphy, but there being no jobbery connected with it, and being easily for the interests of the great mass of people, congress would have nothing to do with it. The argument against the system was that the country was too large for it and that the expense of managing it would be double for the like service in Europe. But this was simply an excuse to vote against the measure, as facts were given which showed that in all the principal states of the Union, the system could be maintained at a cost very little exceeding that in England, Ireland or Scotland.

The fact is, the tremendous wealth of the Western Union company is an ever-present power to defeat any congressional scheme which seeks to reform our telegraphic system.

precautions against an attack will be neglected."

THE CELESTIALS BEATEN.

French Capture Chinese Islands. HONG KONG, April 3.—The French on Monday began an attack upon the Phang Hoo, or Fisher's Islands, situated in and commanding the channel between Formosa and the China mainland. The engagement lasted until late on Tuesday when the French losses are reported to have been trifling, only three killed and twelve wounded, while it is said the Chinese loss is 600.

A Note in the Chambers.

PARIS, April 3.—There was renewed excitement in the French chamber of deputies Thursday over a newspaper statement that China had accepted peace proposals made by Minister Ferry. M. Jolibois said the report was too scandalous for toleration, and he made a vain attempt toward the impeachment of the ministers. In the evening Le Paris reassured that China has decided to accept the treaty of Tientsin and a treaty of commerce, with a month's armistice and the abandonment of the French indemnity claim.

PICKING THE FLINTS.

UNITED STATES MARINES ORDERED TO BE READY FOR BUSINESS.

More Bloodshed in Manitoba—England Getting Her Ships into Line—French Capture Chinese Islands—Oman Digues Folds His Tent.

WASHINGTON City, April 3.—The secretary of the navy has notified each of the navy yards to have the available forces of marines in readiness for shipment to Panama. About sixty marines were on duty yesterday at the Brooklyn navy yard from some of the navy yards. The force of 300 marines concentrated at the New York yard will be shipped to Panama at once. The entire available force of marines at the various navy yards and stations aggregates about 400 men, and preparations are being made for shipping the entire force to Panama, if necessary.

No naval officers have as yet been ordered to Panama, although it is probable that a number may be sent here.

It is now thought probable that the interference of the United States will be unnecessary, and all preparations will be abandoned, but that as long as there is a possibility that additional forces will be required, prompt and decisive steps must be taken.

The secretary has arranged with the Pacific Mail Steamship company to transport the marines to Panama and will send 200 men immediately and Admiral Jouett will also be required.

Boston, Mass., April 3.—People on their way to the great service Thursday forenoon were gratified to learn that a company of United States marines in full marching order crossing the common toward the Providence railway station. In the early morning, long before sunrise, the commandant of the navy yard had received telegraphic instructions to send at once the entire available force of marines to New York, and the men were ordered to pack knapsacks and be in readiness for instant departure for service at Panama.

PHILADELPHIA, April 3.—The following dispatch was received Thursday by Adams, son of Consul General Adkinson, of Aspinwall:

"Colon is totally destroyed by fire. The suffering is awful. In my name invoke all editors to ask subscriptions for relief."

"ADAMSON."

Several Reporters Killed and Wounded—The General Situation.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 3.—Robert Watson, M. P., received a telegram Thursday night from several prominent residents at Winnipeg remonstrating against the action of the government in sending troops to Battleford via Touchstone Creek instead of Swift Current route, 104 miles shorter. A Winnipeg newspaper says trouble is feared at Fort Qu'Appelle. Eighty Cree Indians gathered around in war paint and raised a hideous whoop. A pow-wow was held with the agent and they returned to their reserve, but are likely to break out again.
